

Event name:

Writers in Schools of HK (WISH) Project

Description:

A group of Form 4 and Form 5 students studying Literature in English enrolled in the Writers in Schools of HK (WISH) Project organised by The Chinese University of Hong Kong. Over the span of three months, they worked with Nicolette Wong, a local writer, who guided them in the appreciation of and experimentation with different writing styles and genres. As a circle of budding writers, they exchanged creative ideas as a group and peer reviewed one another's work. We are delighted to see the fruits of their creative labour published in an anthology.

Given the success of the project and the encouraging feedback from the participants, we decided to extend the invitation to outside the senior Literature in English classes and promoted the event through the English Club. In the second term, another group of Form 3 to Form 5 students have joined the re-run of the workshop series.
