

The IET Faraday Challenge Days 2018

Organizer: The Institution of Engineering and Technology (IET)

Two teams of F.1 students joined the IET Faraday Challenge Days on 19 May 2018. They applied science and engineering knowledge to build projects to solve daily life problems in a practical way.

The annual IET Faraday Challenge is an engineering-based competition originated in the United Kingdom. Hong Kong started to run the event in 2014.
